

Summer Internship Programme – 2011

The Summer Internship Programme 2011, an important training event of the National Human Rights Commission which is organized for students with law/social science background was inaugurated by Hon'ble Member, NHRC Justice Shri G.P.Mathur on 18 May 2011. Apart from the student participants, the inaugural function was also attended by senior officials of the Commission including Director General (Investigation) and Registrar (Law).

The student participants of the programme this year represent a large number of States/UTs. In this address to the students, Justice Shri G.P.Mathur gave a detailed account about the background and history of the international human rights movement as well as the human rights as they are incorporated in the Constitution of India. He also advised them to disseminate the knowledge gained during the programme in their respective institution as well as among their friends/colleagues so that the awareness of human rights issues is generated across the country.
